

CULTURE DROP

THE FILMS,
EXHIBITIONS
AND EVENTS YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT

VOTES FOR WOMEN... OR VOTES FOR LADIES?

Celebrating the first step Parliament took towards women achieving the vote, this exhibition aims to set the record straight on a campaign that has historically been misrepresented and distorted. Until 24 Jan, Working Class Movement Library, Salford; wcmf.org.uk

PIZZA PERFECTION IN WEMBLEY

Zia Lucia – the pizza joint known for its slow-fermented doughs and charcoal crusts – has taken over Wembley Boxpark. The menu offers classics (think margherita and 'Nduja sausage) and a burrata bar, which consists of a slab of burrata cheese with toppings such as smoked salmon or roast peppers. zialucia.com

THE FAVOURITE

Olivia Colman stars as Queen Anne alongside Emma Stone and Rachel Weisz in this film, hotly tipped for Oscars success. Set in the 18th century, it's rebellious and witty with fantastic performances from its three female stars. Out now

TAKE A SEAT...

Provenance, an exhibition by Amie Siegel at Tate St Ives, explores the theme of global trade by following the journey of chairs from Chandigarh, India, to auction houses and private homes in America and Europe. Until 6 May; tate.org.uk

GET YOUR SKATES ON!

If you didn't manage to fit in ice skating in December, not to worry. Somerset House's rink is open until Sunday. Go after 8.30pm for Skate Lates featuring live DJs and refreshments courtesy of Fortnum & Mason. somersethouse.org.uk

COLETTE

Keira Knightley stars in the biopic of Sidonie-Gabrielle Colette. After publishing several acclaimed novels in her husband's name, she rebels when he steals all the glory, challenging gender stereotypes and carving out her own identity. With Dominic West. Out Friday

